

WIFE'S WEIRD STORY.

Says She Saw Her Husband Murder His Aged Employer.

HAD A QUARREL ABOUT WAGES DUE.

After Witnessing the Growsome Deed Murderer's Wife Became Hysterical, Told About His Crime and Refused to Fly With Him.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 29.—John Krauss, who kept a little cigar store on Lincoln avenue, was murdered in his apartments in the rear of the store. The police are looking for Frank Williams who, according to the statements of Mrs. Williams, committed the crime.

Williams was an employe of Krauss, and accompanied by his wife went to Krauss's place to collect wages due him. Mrs. Williams says that Williams in a fit of anger picked up a stick and struck Krauss, fracturing his skull and killing him instantly.

Krauss lived alone. After the murder, Krauss's body was tied up into a bundle by bending the legs and then Williams, taking his wife with him, went to a livery stable to hire a wagon, ostensibly for the purpose of carrying the body away. Mrs. Williams remained outside the livery office and as a man approached became hysterical and asked him to save her. She said she was afraid some man who was in the livery stable was going to kill her. She was directed to go to a saloon nearby and get out of the way. This she did and to the saloonkeeper, Anton Jaeger, she told of the killing of Krauss by her husband. Williams came into the saloon shortly afterward looking for her and asked her to go with him. She began crying and refused. Williams then kissed her and ran out. Krauss's body was removed to the morgue. Every effort is being made to capture Williams.

Colombian-Venezuela Break.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The state department received from Minister Hart confirmation of the notification from the Colombian government to Venezuela that it has terminated diplomatic relations. This action is the result of the hasty withdrawal last August from the Venezuelan capital of Dr. Dico, the Colombia minister there. Such a breach does not necessarily mean war, though it is undoubtedly a step in that direction. Venezuela has had several affairs of this kind, some of the European nations withdrawing their representatives from Caracas for long terms and only 18 months ago this government was obliged to give Minister Loomis an indefinite leave of absence from Caracas as a warning to Venezuela of dissatisfaction with its attitude in the asphalt dispute.

Fell Into a Pitfall.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Adjutant General Corbin received the following cablegram from General Chaffee dated Manila, Nov. 28: "Lieutenants Feeter and Wetherill of the Nineteenth United States Infantry were badly wounded by bamboo spikes in a pitfall near Carmen, Mohol. Feeter wounded in the feet, Wetherill in the thigh; operation necessary to extract sticks. Lieutenant Smith was slightly hurt." First Lieutenant George I. Feeter is a native of New York. He entered the army as a second lieutenant in May, 1899. Second Lieutenant Richard Wetherill and Ira Smith were appointed in February.

In Broad Day.

Chicago, Nov. 29.—In a crowded downtown street J. W. Rogge was robbed by two highwaymen and thrown bodily through a plate glass window. Rogge was attacked on Fifth avenue near Madison street and while one choked him into helplessness the other went through his pockets, securing a small amount of money. The thugs then picked him up and threw him through a large plate glass restaurant window. The men took to their heels with a crowd in pursuit, but dodged up an alley and escaped. Beyond a few painful cuts and bruises Rogge was not seriously injured.

Street Duel.

Rockford, Tenn., Nov. 29.—Kalter Smith, a prominent business man, shot and instantly killed James Rush, a bartender, on the street near Smith's home. It is claimed Rush was making an effort to shoot Smith. There were no witnesses to the affair. Rush was a single man from Knoxville, where he had relatives. Smith is a married man. Smith gave himself up.

WOOD AT WASHINGTON.

Says Cubans Want to See Their Flag Float Over Morro Castle.

New York, Nov. 29.—Among the passengers from Havana were General Leonard Wood, governor of Cuba, and Mrs. Wood. General Wood proceeded directly to Washington to report to President Roosevelt and expects to return Dec. 7. He said he had expressed no opinion on the question of annexation of Cuba and that to do so would be impolitic. The story, he added, was probably put out to affect the elections in Cuba, but nothing would come of it. Matters were quiet in Cuba and preparations were being made for the coming elections in February. "Of course," said General Wood, "there are a number of people in Cuba who desire annexation, but I doubt the possibility of securing a canvass of opinion on the question. The people of Cuba wish to see their flag floating over Morro castle, even if it were only for a week."

Pacific Islanders Punished.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 29.—From New Hebrides, news is received that the boats of the French recruiting vessel, Marie Henry, were attacked by the natives who were incensed because of the misconduct of a former recruit vessel, which had shanghaied a number of natives. Securing reinforcements the French landed, burned a number of huts and canoes, but the natives fled. The schooner Julia was also attacked at Pentecost Island. The crew of the vessel returned the fire and driving back the natives landed and burned some huts, including that of the teacher of the mission, who was seen at the head of the natives. Rich discoveries of gold have been made at the Woodlark island goldfields near Samar, New Guinea.

Condensed Milk Combine.

New York, Nov. 29.—It is reported that the Borden Condensed Milk company, capital stock $20,000,000, all common, $17,000,000 issued, intends to issue of $2,750,000 preferred stock for the purpose of absorbing several competitors. It is expected the Borden concern is anxious to advance the price of its product inasmuch as the cost of raw material and tin cans has increased. The combine may possibly assume an international character, as condensed milk is exported and there are some important companies on the other side. It is learned that the Borden Condensed Milk company some time ago was seeking control of a London plant that turns out a large amount of the product.

Prisoners Drowned.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 29.—News of the foundering of a launch at Noumea caused the drowning of 15 prisoners was received from the steamer Miwera. The steamer St. Pierre arrived there from the Isle of Pines with 54 prisoners, including three women and the launch went out to tender the steamer. It was too small, and being overcrowded, capsized and all on board were thrown into the water. The members of the Kanaka crew of the St. Pierre dived into the water repeatedly and saved many, but 15 were drowned, including Warden Andre, who was in charge of the launch. The accident was witnessed by several hundred people from the wharf.

Because One Juror Died.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 29.—In the United States district court the Balliet jury was dismissed owing to the death of one of its members. The contending sides could not agree as to trying it before the 11 remaining jurors. The case was continued until the next term. Balliet is the owner of the White Swan mine in Baker, Or., and is accused by the United States with having used the mails to further a fraudulent scheme by which he sold stock to an unit of $250,000.

Did Marks Suicide?

London, Nov. 29.—Although Scotland Yard detectives firmly believe Lawrie Marks, the bookmaker, suicided by leaping overboard from a channel steamer, special detectives employed by the Bank of Liverpool believe Marks merely adopted a ruse of some sort to escape, rather than face officers who suspected him of complicity with Dick Burge the pugilist in the Liverpool bank frauds.

Colonel Atkinson Mustered Out.

New York, Nov. 29.—Colonel Hoffman Atkinson is dead. At the outbreak of the civil war he raised a company of the First West Virginia cavalry. He was seriously wounded at Perryville and at Chickamauga commanding the Nineteenth cavalry. In 1875 he was made secretary of legation at St. Petersburg, resigning from the diplomatic service to enter commercial life in this city.

Taft, received a cablegram from Manila stating that Surgeons Stafford and Rhodes have successfully grafted the skin on Governor Taft's wound, and he will probably be able to pay his projected visit to the United States at the end of December.

BREACH IS WIDENING

Switchmen and Trainmen at Loggerheads About the Strike.

TRAINS MOVED REGULARLY FRIDAY.

Holiday Enabled Railroad Companies to Relieve Congested Condition of Yards — Strikers Have Not Yet Given Up the Fight.

Pittsburg, Nov. 29.—While many of the striking switchmen have returned to work and the railroads have succeeded pretty well in clearing their yards, strikers are still active and assert that they have made gains. This claim is denied by railroad officials generally, who report their lines in better condition than at any time since the men went out.

Thursday being a holiday few cars were loaded by shippers and the railroad companies availed themselves of the opportunity to relieve the congested condition of the yards occasioned by the strike. The Allegheny Valley railroad is still the greatest sufferer. Blockades continue at several points and it will be several days before traffic has been resumed satisfactorily. Officials say that all but 15 of the strikers have returned to work. The strikers are making strenuous efforts against the Pennsylvania railroad and were working among the men employed in the yards of this company at Pitsalrn. About 150 switchmen are employed in those yards and there has been a feeling of unrest among them ever since the strike began.

Railroad officials expect the men to go out and have provided a force to take their places if they quit work. Six men known as "extras" in the Union station yards joined the strikers, but their places were immediately filled. Traffic moved regularly Friday.

Relations between the switchmen and the trainmen are badly strained. The switchmen say Grand Master Morrissey of the trainmen, did not act properly in refusing to allow his men to indorse the strike. On the other hand the trainmen accuse the switchmen of setting without consulting the other federations of railway employees. If this had been done, they say, the advance in wages could have been secured without trouble. The bitterness over the matter is increasing daily.

MINE OAGE FELL.

Eight Men Survive Drop of 700 Feet But Were Mortally Hurt.

Connellsville, Pa., Nov. 29.—At the Lambert mines near Masontown, eight men after dropping a distance of 700 feet down a mine shaft were all brought to the surface living, but with three dying and the others probably fatally hurt. Just as they got aboard the cage the cable parted and the cage dropped. A few seconds later the miners at the top heard the sound of a crash and splintering wood. The cage on the opposite side was immediately loaded with a rescue party who on arriving at the bottom found the men lying unconscious on the floor of the cage with crushed chests, broken arms and legs and in some cases, the bones protruding out through the flesh. One man's skull was fractured.

Colombian General Killed.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 29.—General Francisco Castro, who led the government troops in the capture of the Barbacacas bridge Tuesday, was killed Thursday during an engagement with the insurgent forces at Bohia Solado. General Castro had been acting as second in command of the government force on the isthmus. The captains of the warships with a large detachment of their respective forces took over the government of Colon from the Liberals and handed over the same later in the day to General Alban, commander of the Colombian government forces. Everything is quiet and orderly.

Lepers Complain.

Victoria, B. C., Nov. 29.—Honolulu papers received contain extended accounts of the purpose of the visit of Congressman Wilcox to Washington. He will ask $10,000,000 appropriations for improvements in the islands. Lepers in Hawaii have written to the papers charging the board of health with neglect and misdemeanors in connection with their supply of food and water. They ask for a state commission to investigate.

TRAGEDY IN CHINATOWN.

Highbinders Go Forth to Slay and Police Gather Them In.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—Two Chinese are dead and two others mortally wounded lie at the receiving hospital as the result of two murderous attacks in Chinatown. Both shootings were the culmination of a long standing feud between rival Highbinder associations. The men who were killed outright were Quang Louey a cigar dealer and Suey Buck, who were shot as they lay sleeping in a bunk at 902 Clay street. One of the wounded is Loo Fook, a gambler, who was shot as he was entering his rooms at Waverly place.

After the shooting a large squad of police was sent into Chinatown and in a short time the officers arrested half a dozen Highbinders who were armed.

BELIEVE WH OH YOU CHOOSE.

Miss Stone Killed and Not Killed According to These Reports.

Vienna, Nov. 29.—A private telegram sent from Pera Thursday afternoon reports that news had just been received that Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary, and Mrs. Tsilika, her companion in captivity, were murdered almost three months ago by the brigands who kidnaped them.

Constantinople, Nov. 29.—The report that Miss Ellen M. Stone, the American missionary who was abducted by brigands and held for ransom, and her companion, Mme. Tsilika, are dead is not confirmed. Previous similar reports have invariably proved to be without foundation and it is supposed that the brigands are circulating such rumors with the object of exciting friends of the captives in the hope of exacting the full amount of ransom demanded.

Mass For the Dead.

New York, Nov. 28.—Rev. Joseph Mendi of the Roman Catholic church of the immaculate Conception at Montclair, N. J., celebrated high mass Thanksgiving day for the souls of the Boers lost in battle against the British and also for the native Filipinos who died fighting for their independence. Although it was bitterly cold, there was an attendance of several hundred. Father Mendi was assisted by two priests from Newark. Father Mendi received a large number of letters from persons in Montclair, Newark, New York and Brooklyn indorsing his position and congratulating him for celebrating mass.

Rear End Collision.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 29.—Twelve persons were injured in a rear end collision between a special and a freight on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, near Tully station. The special was bringing home from Cortland a large party of Syracuse Knight of Columbus who had been attending festivities there. The engineer thought the freight had taken the siding at Tully when he suddenly saw the caboose directly ahead of him. The engineer and firemen jumped, sustaining slight injuries. The caboose was smashed and the passenger cars were considerably damaged.

Destructive Flames.

New York, Nov. 29.—The fire which started in the lumber yards of William E. Uptegrove & Brothers at the foot of East Tenth and Eleventh streets, burned until 10 o'clock Friday morning. The fire on the Standard Oil property however, was extinguished during the night. The total loss was estimated at $750,000.

CARING FOR THE DEAD

Italian Consular Agent Unable to Say How Many Were Killed.

AT LEAST EIGHTY PEOPLE PERISHED.

Conductor Martin Says His Orders Were For the Trains to Meet at Seneca — Engineer Strong Says He Is Not Alone Responsible.

Detroit, Nov. 29.—Pietro Cardello, Italian consular agent in Detroit, returned from the scene of the Wabash wreck near Seneca, where he went to look after the interests of his countrymen, so many of whom were burned to death. He said he was not yet able to form anything like a correct estimate of the number of Italians killed.

"While I cannot tell how many were killed," said he, "I am inclined to think the estimates thus far are a trifle exaggerated. I shall do everything in my power to determine the number of Italian victims and to secure information concerning them, but it will require time. I do not know where to begin, but I hope to have the matter straightened out by and by. It will probably be necessary to send to Italy for the names of the immigrants who were on the train and then check the list with those who escaped."

Whether the terrible loss of life sustained by the Italians will be made the subject of correspondence between the Italian and United States governments, Consul Cardello could not say. "It is not my place to notify the Italian government," he said. "That would come within the jurisdiction of Count Rosewadowski, the Italian consul at Chicago, who will also look after the injured victims in the Peru hospitals. I have no doubt that he has already advised our government of the accident."

"Have you communicated with Count Rosewadowski?" was asked. "I have done my duty," was the diplomatic answer.

Conductor C. J. Martin of train 4, which collided with train No. 13 near Seneca, causing the loss of about 80 lives, said the order given him at Montpelier, O., was to pass No. 13 at Seneca, which he took to Engineer Strong and read over to him and which agreed with Strong's orders. "After receiving these orders, I remember asking the agent at Montpelier whether the new siding at Seneca would contain my train," said Conductor Martin. "I was toward the rear of the chair car fixing up a passenger's ticket when I saw the station lights of Seneca flash by and immediately felt the airbrake applied. I felt no alarm, supposing the engineer was slowing down for the east switch, in order to see the numbers of 13's engines, which I supposed had cleared. Just then the brakeman, who had been on the lookout, came hurrying into the chair car and pulled the cord twice. 'What is it, Tony?' I called. 'We're going through Seneca,' he answered, and an instant later the crash came."

This bears out the statement of Superintendent Burns, that Engineer Strong of No. 4 either misunderstood or forgot his orders and ran by Seneca where he was ordered to pass 13.

When Conductor Martin's statement was repeated to Engineer Strong later, the engineer said: "I have not denied at any time that we received such an order; I only say that if we did get such an order I misread or misunderstood it and that I should have been set right by the conductor. Mr. fireman will tell you that he, too, understood that we were to meet both trains at Sand Creek instead of at Seneca. If I made an error I was not alone to blame. The other three members of the crew must have understood as I did or else they would have corrected me."

Engineer Strong attaches responsibility to the conductor and brakeman for the simple fact, he says, that if he had understood he was to meet No. 13 at Seneca he would have blown one long and one short blast immediately whistling for the Seneca station when his train was a half mile from that point. Not having done so, he claims that either the conductor or the brakeman, if they understood the meeting order to read Seneca, should have whistled him down by pulling the cord twice.

OLD TIMES IN WASHINGTON.

The Washington (Mason County) correspondent of the Ledger mentions the old "cotton mill" owned and operated at that place in the "thirties" by Coburn Dewees and T. J. Pickett. It was the first mill of the kind in Northern Kentucky. Coburn Dewees was a brother of Farmer Dewees, the Lexington banker. Washington was then the great business center of this region. Judge Collins says that, "as early as 1797, there were seventeen stores in Washington." Among the most noted of the old storekeepers were John Morton, Burgess & Green, Henry & Peter Lee, David Bell (father of Joshua F. Bell of Boyle) and Daniel Vertner, afterwards of Natchez and Lexington. The first newspaper in Mason County was The Mirror, published at Washington in 1797 by Hunter & Beaumont. The town of Washington at that time did a large business, being the chief distributing center for points in the South. Its business men were manufacturers as well as importers. The old bank, at which that accomplished gentleman, Robert Taylor, presided as cashier, is still standing, and the big vault, with its heavy wrought-iron doors, is apparently as sound and strong as when built. The commercial importance of Washington declined when the county seat was removed to this place.

AN ACT OF COURTESY.

Congress convenes next Monday and the following from Col. Breckinridge of the Lexington Herald thus describes the drawing of seats at the opening:
 Before the drawing begins all the members are required to vacate their seats and retire behind the bar of the House, and as the names are called comments are often made, some of which elicit shouts of laughter and some applause. The advantage of a favorable seat is very great; and a very unfavorable seat is of great disadvantage. Sometimes an act of courtesy by a new member gains him a valuable friend. In the 49th Congress Hon. William Preston Taulbee, of Kentucky, was called very early and selected a most favorable seat. Mr. Hewitt, of New York, was called almost at the last of the roll and had no choice but to take a very unfavorable seat. Mr. Taulbee at once, and in the most pleasant manner, insisted upon an exchange of seats and not only made Mr. Hewitt his warm friend but attracted the attention of all the Democrats and was on that first day a marked man and ended his novitiate. Every Representative on both sides at once felt like doing him a favor. It was spontaneously done without thought of advantage—done with modesty but with grace. Mr. Taulbee was an unusual man of many striking gifts; of absolute moral courage and incorruptible integrity. He had a voice of surpassing compass and could be easily heard in every part of the hall and to the remotest seat in every gallery; and he spoke with power and a fluency which at times rose to eloquence.

FACTS AND FICTION.

Experience of Maysville Citizens Are Easily Proven to Be Facts—Outside Testimony is Apt to Savor of Romance.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Maysville is true. Read it and compare evidence from Maysville along with testimony from outside places, published side by side with this in the columns of this paper. Investigate still further and you will be surprised at the number of people in Maysville who re-echo what this citizen says:

Mr. W. H. Paul, of Market street, near Third, says: "I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, corner of West Second and Market streets, and one box cured me of pains in my back and other evidences of a disordered condition of the kidneys that had given me much trouble for two years or more. This statement of fact is the strongest endorsement Doan's Kidney Pills could have as to their wonderful value."

PRAISE FOR BECKHAM

From Former Governors J. Proctor Knott and Preston H. Leslie.

FRANKFORT, KY., Nov. 28.—Among the hundreds of letters received at the State Executive department within the last week congratulating Governor Beckham on the masterful way in which he exposed Governor Durbin, of Indiana, in the matter of requisitions for the fugitives, Taylor and Finley, are two from former Chief Executives of Kentucky, Governor Preston H. Leslie, now of Montana, and Governor J. Proctor Knott, of Danville.

Both congratulate Governor Beckham in the warmest possible terms upon his handling of Governor Durbin and speak of Governor Beckham's letter as a state paper that will be placed high up among the records of the Kentucky Executive department. The letter from Governor Leslie reads:

HELENA, MONT., Nov. 28.—To J. C. W. Beckham, Governor of Kentucky—Dear Sir: There will be left on record and high upon the pages of Kentucky history, a great many gems of honor to the State and her people, and many of them connected with your name and official career. Chief among them will be your letter to the man who is at present and has been for months acting as Governor of the State of Indiana. It is, indeed, a gem, and will sparkle as a star of light, manhood and true patriotism as long as Christian civilization and the love of truth shall dominate the race of man under the skies of this American country. I wish it was upon parchment and hung up in every home throughout the State. I thank you most sincerely for its gift to your confiding constituency and to the lovers of justice and truth all over this country of states and territories, so admirably interlocked with each other for the common good and protection of all. Very truly your friend,
 PRESTON H. LESLIE.

"The blood is the life." Science has never gone beyond that simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgment are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. No one can be well balanced in mind and body whose blood is impure. No one can have a wholesome and pure life unless the blood is pure. Foul blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the blood is pure, body and brain are alike healthy and life becomes a daily happiness.
